SATURDAY, MARCH 18, 1887.

DEMOCRATIC REFORM.

- 1.—The Election of the Governor by the People, and abolition of the Council.
  - 2.—The election of the Senate by the people, giving one Senator to each county and the city of Baltimore.
  - 3.—Apportioning the House of Delegates according to population, restricting the City of Baltimore to the number given to the largest county, and giving to the smallest county at least two delegates.
  - 4.—Abolishing all offices for life and having the Judges appointed by the Governor and Senate for a limited term.
  - 5.—Electing the Clerks and Registers by the people for a limited term.
  - 6.—Restricting the power of the Legislature in granting Banking charters.
- 7.—The Editor is absent on Professional business.

Our latest account of the late President's journey is, that he had reached Flintville, about 70 miles, we believe beyond Frederick. He was a little fatigued, and delayed by the crowds of his fellow-citizens that pressed in from all sides to see and greet him. But he had suffered no relapse; and had every reason to expect an entire restoration of his health, and a speedy and safe return to the Hermitage, cheered at every step by the grateful and affectionate salutations of his countrymen.—Globe.

The English papers are filled with lamentable accounts of the ravages of the Influenza in various parts of England and Scotland. The deaths of numerous persons are announced; 91 of the old Greenwich pensioners had died. A paper states that on a Wednesday, at a house in Stepney, the influenza proved extremely fatal to a family of the name of Edwards, a master brick layer. Of his three children, two died from it on that day, and on Thursday the remaining one, eight years old, went off, from the effects of a blood-poison, caused by the incessant coughing which usually accompanies this disease. The mother is likewise slightly affected, and the shock which has been brought upon the distressed father is indescribable.

A great groom has been thrown over the fashionable circles by the deaths of Lady Cordington and Lady Bailey.

All classes, high and low, suffer alike, and the disease is a leveller of all distinctions. When and where it will end no one on earth can divine.—[N. Y. Trans.]

FOREIGN.

[From the N. York Commercial Advertiser.]

LATE FROM ENGLAND.

The packet ship Oxford, Captain Rathbone, arrived this morning from Liverpool, whence she sailed on the 3d of February. By this arrival the editors of the Commercial Advertiser have received their files of papers to the 3d inclusive. The most important intelligence is the speech of the King with the opening of the Parliament. The mercantile intelligence by this arrival is interesting.

DEATH OF CAPT. DELAND.—We regret to learn that Captain Deland, of the ship Roscoe, died on his passage from this port to Liverpool; he was interred at Liverpool on the 3d of February. His remains were followed to the grave by a large number of Americans and others.

LATER FROM EUROPE.

By the packet ship Sylva, ex Grasse, from Havre, we have received our files of Paris papers to the 1st of February inclusive.

FRANCE.—The influenza—or as the Paris journals call it, the influence, (Pneumonia), makes quite a sensation in the capital. The King had a touch of it on the 27th—the military hospitals were crowded with patients, and the garbion of Paris, and the physicians themselves were no better off than others.

The chief engineer of the Paris fire department has gone to London to make himself acquainted with the means employed there for the extinguishment of fires.

Several of the minor theatres in Paris were closed, so many of the actors and actresses being laid up with the epidemic.

The death of Major Henry Lee, of Virginia, author of the Life of Napoleon, and American Editor of the new English paper established in Paris, is announced in Galignani's Messenger. It took place on Monday, Jan. 30th.

DEBT DUE THE UNITED STATES.—A Royal ordinance authorizes the payment of the 5th instalment of the debt due to the United States recognized by the treaty of the 4th July, 1831. The amount of this payment, with interest, is $1,229,999 fr. 90 c.

OPENING OF PARLIAMENT.

The opening was by commission, as anticipated. The commissioners were the Lord Chancellor, Arch bishop of Canterbury, Marquis of Lansdowne, and Lords Melbourne and Duncannon. The King's speech was read by the Lord Chancellor, as follows:

My Lords and Gentlemen:
We are commanded by His Majesty to acquaint you, that His Majesty continues to receive from all Foreign Powers the strongest assurances of their friendly disposition, and His Majesty trusts that the experience of the blessings which peace confers upon nations will tend to confirm and secure the present tranquillity.

His Majesty laments that the civil contest which has agitated the Spanish monarchy has not yet been brought to a close; but His Majesty has continued to afford to the Queen of Spain that aid which, by the treaty of Quadruple Alliance of 1834, His Majesty engaged to give, if it should become necessary; and His Majesty rejoices that his co-operating force has rendered useful assistance to the troops of the Catholic Majesty.

Events have happened in Portugal which, for a time, threatened to disturb the internal peace of that country. His Majesty ordered, in consequence, a temporary augmentation of his naval force in the Tagus, for the more effectual protection of the persons and property of his subjects resident in Lisbon; and the admiral commanding his Majesty's squadron was authorized in case of need, to afford protection to the person of the Queen of Portugal, without however interfering in those constitutional questions which divided the conflicting parties.

His Majesty has directed the reports of the commissioners appointed to inquire into the state of the provinces of Lower Canada to be laid before you, and has ordered us to call your attention to that important subject.

We have also in charge to recommend for your serious deliberation these propositions which have been submitted to you for the improvement of the law and of the administration of justice, assuming that His Majesty's anxiety for the securing of these objects remains undiminished.

We are rejoiced to convey to you His Majesty's desire that you should continue upon such further measures, as may give increased stability to the established church, and promote concord and good will.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons:
The estimates of the year have been prepared with every desire to meet the exigencies of the public service in the spirit of a wise economy. His Majesty has directed them to be laid before you without delay.—The increase of the revenue has hitherto more than justified the expectations created by the receipts of former years.

His Majesty recommends an early renewal of your inquiries into the operation of the act permitting the establishment of joint-stock banks. The best security against the mismanagement of banking affairs must ever be found in the capacity and integrity of those who are entrusted with the administration of them, and in the caution and prudence of the public; but no legislative regulations should be omitted which can increase and insure the stability of establishments upon which commercial credit so much depends.

My Lords and Gentlemen:
His Majesty has more especially commended to you, with every notice the state of Ireland, and the wisdom of adopting all such measures as may improve the condition of that part of the United Kingdom. His Majesty recommends to your early consideration the present constitution of the municipal corporations of that country, the laws which regulate the collection of tithes, and the difficult but pressing question of establishing some legal provision for the poor, guarded by prudent regulations, and by such precautions against abuse, as your experience and knowledge of the subject enable you to suggest.

His Majesty commends these great interests into your hands, in the confidence that you will be able to frame laws in accordance with the wishes of his Majesty and the expectation of his people.—His Majesty is persuaded that, should this hope be fulfilled, you will not only contribute to the welfare of Ireland, but strengthen the law, and constitution of these realms, by securing their benefits to all classes of his Majesty's subjects.

DIFFICULTIES BETWEEN RUSSIA AND ENGLAND.

Lord Durham is likely to have a disagreeable affair to settle with the Russian Government, as we learn from the last advices from Europe. A British merchant schooner, the Vixen, has been captured in the Black Sea, off the coast of Circassia, under the pretence that she violated a blockade established by Russia, by a Russian vessel of war. She had previously disposed of a cargo of salt, at Djouk. Now Russia has no right whatever to blockade this part of the coast. Twice she has proclaimed the blockade, and when Mr. Bell, the owner, before he despatched the Vixen, inquired at the Foreign Office whether such a blockade existed, he was simply referred to the Gazette. His vessel and cargo were insured at Lloyd's. Of course, reparation for this outrage must be demanded, and obtained at any cost. The British Navy is of no use if it cannot protect its commerce.—[Spectator.]

The London Herald of the 28th says: "Our ally Russia, has dared to insult the personal liberty of British subjects—to seize upon their property—to insult the British flag, and set the British Government at defiance. That Russia, by this act, sets the British Government at defiance there can be no doubt. To ascertain that, to convince ourselves that it is not a mistake, we have only to look to the pretence for the capture. What was the pretence? It was that the Vixen had broken the blockade of the coast of Circassia—a blockade which our Government never acknowledged; and it was indeed upon the official assurance that it had not, and was, we have only to look to the Vixen's sail and broke the blockade. Our Government now dare to support its own original decision—will it dare to vindicate the insulted honor of the British flag? Will it prefer a crouching and truckling course of policy to a manly and energetic one? Will it find some pretext for the capture of the Vixen in breaking an unrecognized blockade, has thrown upon it, and thus prostrate England in deeper humiliation than ever beneath the insolent supremacy of Russia?"

The London Standard holds the following strong language in relation to the capture of the Vixen:

"The case of the Vixen is like to bring the British and Russian relation to an explanation. Russia, some years ago, proclaimed a sanitary blockade of nearly the whole eastern coast of the Black Sea, which she had no more territorial right to institute than it would have to blockade the Brazil, or the coast of Africa—the purpose of this blockade was to aid the ambitious aggressions of the Czar upon the independence of Circassians; perhaps to assert a kind of sovereignty in the Black Sea. No British Minister can dare refuse to demand restitution of the vessel, and full satisfaction to the British flag."

CHESSPEAKE CITY HOTEL FOR RENT.

THE Subscriber will rent for one year, or for a longer period, the large and handsomely furnished HOTEL, at the corner of a Western end of the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal, in Chesapeake city, formerly kept by Mr. Abraham Bennet, and now by herself. This house was built expressly for a tavern, and no expense was spared to make it convenient and comfortable to persons who patronized it. It has a large and well-finished basement story, under which is a fine cellar. On the first story there are two large parlors, a wide passage through the centre of the house, a dining room, and a bar room. On the second story there are sixteen bed-rooms. On the front and one of the gables of the Hotel, are a large and fine porch. In the cellar there is an excellent spring of never failing water.

In addition to this, if desired, the subscriber would rent private apartments adjoining the Hotel.

There is also attached to this Hotel a large yard and garden.

Cheesapeake city is remarkable for the healthiness of its situation, and during the summer months is a place of much resort for persons from the cities of Baltimore and Philadelphia.

Large water works are about to be established in Chesapeake city, and as this is the only hotel in the place it holds out many inducements to persons to occupy it, who wish to engage in such business. The stables attached to the Hotel will hold twenty horses. There is also a large ICE HOUSE belonging to the Hotel, and, in fine, for size and convenience it is unequalled in the country, all kinds of provisions can be procured at the cheapest rates, and fish, and fowl in abundance at all seasons of the year.

Possession will be given on the 25th of March next.

61. ESTHER T. BENNETT.

The Delawarean will please publish the above advertisement four times and forward his account to this office for payment.

THE Commissioners of Cecil County will meet at their Office in the Court House on Tuesday the 1st inst.

Superior and Collectors, who have had no settlement of accounts with them lately, are particularly requested to attend said meeting. By order

JAS. H. JAVAR, Clerk.

Vendue.

THE SUBSCRIBER, intending to go South, will sell at Public Auction, on Tuesday, the 14th day of March next, at his residence in Elkton, all his household and Kitchen Furniture,—consisting of a number of handsome Mirrors, one solid mahogany case right day Clock, seven good Feather Beds, Bedding and Bedsteads, mahogany Dining, Breakfast, and Card Tables, one Mahogany Sideboard, one do. Beaureaux, one Settee and a great variety of other articles too numerous to mention in an advertisement.

The sale will be positive, and commence at 10 o'clock, A. M. Terms made known on day of sale.

fe18—St. SAMUEL DOUGHERTY.

N. B. The undersigned tenders his thanks to his patrons, and respectfully requests that those who are indebted to him will come forward and settle their accounts forthwith. As this is the first time he has called upon them for settlement, and as he now intends to leave the State he sincerely hopes they will satisfy his demands upon them on or before the 14th of March next, without further notice.

HECKART-TOWN HOTEL.

THE Subscriber respectfully informs the public that he has opened a Hotel at Heckart-Town, (one and a half miles below Port Deposit), and is prepared to accommodate all persons who may favor him with their custom. The Hotel is large and commodious—the bar is furnished with the best liquors, and he can give comfortable rooms to a large number of boarders.

A line of stages is running from Heckart-Town to Frenchtown, by way of Elkton, and the Steamboat Wolcott regularly halts at Heckart-Town wharf, on her way to and from Baltimore and Port Deposit.

The harbor at Heckart-Town is equal, if superior to any harbor at the head of Chesapeake Bay, and the subscriber intends that his customers shall have the use of it. For the accommodation of his patrons he has a boat plying twice each day between Heckart-Town and Port Deposit, and he is determined that nothing shall be wanting that will add to the comfort and convenience of those who may patronize him.

A Valuable tract of Land for Sale.

THE subscriber will sell at private sale the FARM on which he resides, situate in East Nottingham, Cecil county, Maryland, in the immediate vicinity of Rock Meeting House, about eight miles from the line quaries, and about eight or nine miles from the villages of Elkton and North East. This farm contains three hundred acres of land, more or less the greater part of which is in a high state of cultivation, and five or six of the fields have recently been twice tilled. It is conveniently laid off into fifteen fields, with a stream of water passing through each. There is a meadow of bottom land upon this farm which contains sixty or seventy acres and yields annually one hundred tons of hay. The well known stream Little Elk passes through the meadow.

The improvements on this FARM consist of two DWELLING HOUSES, one of Stone, the other Log and frame, two good and substantial barns, with all other necessary buildings such as smoke houses, Corncribs and granaries attached to each, with a well of water at the door of each of the Dwelling Houses. This tract is well calculated to be divided into two farms and was formerly occupied as such. There is also a new tenant house and coopershop upon the premises.

The above property is pleasantly situated, in a healthy and improving neighborhood, convenient to places of worship of different denominations, and surrounded by mills and factories of various kinds.

A further description is deemed unnecessary, as persons wishing to purchase are requested to view the property for themselves. For terms apply to the subscriber.

LITERARY UNION,

LADY'S BOOK

AND

LADIES' AMERICAN

NOVELIST.

THE Proprietor of the Lady's Book, grateful for the unceasing patronage which he has received, announces to the Ladies who have so generously sustained their own "Book," that he has made new arrangements for their gratification. Convinced that he could not in any way more effectually promote the interests, or realize the wishes of his numerous subscribers, he has secured the valuable aid of of Boston, to whose superintendence the literary departments of the Lady's Book will hereafter be committed. For many years Mrs. Hale has conducted the American Lady's Magazine—a periodical of uncommon merit, which has been the Lady's Book. Her abilities are familiar to her countrywomen, and on both sides of the Atlantic she enjoys a high reputation as one of the most graceful, vigorous and accomplished of our female writers.

Under the judicious management of Mrs. Hale, the Lady's Book will not only maintain the excellent character it has already acquired, but it is confidently expected that it will be rendered more eminently worthy of the support of those to whose interests and amusement it has been, and will continue to be, especially devoted. The superior talents and fine taste of the Editor will give the work new impulse; while her own contributions, and those received from her personal friends, and other correspondents, of whom a number have already promised will render it almost entirely original. Amongst others who are expected to furnish matter for the Book may be mentioned—

Mrs. Sarah J. Hale, Editor,
Mrs. L. H. Sigourney,
Mrs. Ann S. Stephens,
Mrs. Caroline Lee Hentz,
Mrs. E. F. Ellett,
Miss Leslie,
Miss H. F. Gould,
Miss C. E. Gooch,
Miss L. H. Medley,
R. S. Mackenzie, L. L. D.
Joseph R. Chandler,
Morton McMichael,
Robert T. Conrad,
Alexander Dinitry, A. M.,
H. E. Hale,
E. Burke Fisher,
N. C. Brooks, A. M.,
Wm. E. Burton,
Willis Gaylord Clark,
Joseph C. Neal,
B. B. Thatcher,
R. Penn Smith.

The Proprietor of the Lady's Book is determined to use every means to maintain the superiority which his publication has obtained. For years he has gone steadily on in the course of improvement and he flatters himself that his facilities are such as to give his work eminent advantages over his competitors. His very simple subscription list enables him to be liberal in his terms, and upon it, and whatever can be accomplished by enterprise and cost he is resolved to effect. Besides the persons above-mentioned as contributors, he has expectations of receiving original articles from several distinguished female writers in Europe; and as an inducement to writers of our own country, he is willing to pay for every article adopted by him as suitable to his publication, as high a rate of remuneration as will be given by the proprietors of any other periodical in the United States.

The mechanical portion of the Lady's Book will be improved. The typography will be more elegant, and the paper of a better quality. During the year portraits, engraved on steel, of several eminent ladies will be given; and every second month a coloured plate, illustrating the prevailing fashion, will be furnished. Other embellishments, calculated to enhance the appearance and increase the value of the work will be introduced; and generally, every thing will be done that the most untiring purpose of making the Lady's Book pre-eminently entitled to patronage can suggest.

With the experience he has acquired during a long course of devotedness to the business, and the aid to be derived from the distinguished lady who will henceforth be associated with him, the Publisher is confident that he will be able to render the amplest satisfaction to all who may become his patrons. He therefore, with a just reliance on the claims to support, respectfully solicits continuance of that liberal encouragement which has so kindly been bestowed on his endeavours.

The terms of the Lady's Book are Three Dollars per annum, payable in advance. All orders must be addressed to

L. A. GODEY,

100 Walnut Street.

As the publisher of the Lady's Book is connected with other popular periodicals, he suggests, for the convenience of remittance, the following system of CLUBBING.

Lady's Book and Bulwer's Novels, for

Lady's Book and MARRYATT'S NOVELS, for

Bulwer's and MARRYATT'S Novels, 17 in all,

Bulwer's or MARRYATT'S Novels and Saturday News,

Lady's Book, Saturday News, and Sketch Book, for

Lady's Book, Celebrated Trials, and Sketch Book, for

Bulwer's or MARRYATT'S Novels, Celebrated Trials, and Sketch Book, for

SIR WALTER SCOTT'S NOVELS.

A premium of all the Novels by this celebrated author will be given to any person furnishing ten subscribers, and the cash, $30, to the publisher of the Lady's Book, free of postage; or one half of the Novels for five subscribers, and the cash, $15.

A NEW AND CHEAP PERIODICAL.

Attention is requested from our reader to the following prospectus of a new and ever cheaper book periodical which will be issued from this office in the first week of next January. It will not be so convenient a form for binding as the present, with which it will in no way interfere but it will make books cheap beyond all comparison. It will contain the works of the day, which are much sought after, but are comparatively dear, and which cannot penetrate the interior in any volume half so rapidly as by mail, in any number of books are prohibited. A fifty cent American year will be furnished gratis from your to SIX CENTS—a MARRYATT for twelve cents, and others in proportion.

As but very few copies will be printed but who are actually subscribed for, those who wish the Omnibus, must make their remittance at once.

BOOKS AT NEWSPAPER POSTAGE.

WALDIE'S LITERARY OMNIBUS.

NOVEL AND IMPORTANT LITERARY ENTERPRISE!!

Novels, tales, biographies, travels, reviews and the news of the day.

It was one of the great objects of 'Waldie's Literary' to make good reading cheaper and to bring literature to every man's door. That object has been accomplished; we have given to books wings, and they have flown to the uttermost parts of our vast continent carrying Society to secluded occupation to the literary, information to all. We now propose still further to reduce prices, and render the access to a literary banquet more than twofold accessible—we gave and shall continue to give in the quarto literary volume weekly for two cents a day; we now propose to give a volume the same price for less than FOUR CENTS a week, and to add to it, gratuitously, the dish a few columns of shorter literary matters, and a summary of the news and events of the day. We know by experience and calculation that we can go still further to the matter of reduction, and we feel that there is still verge enough for us to aim at offering to an increasing literary appetite that mental food which it craves.

The Select Circulating Library, now as ever so great a favourite, will continue to make its weekly visit, and to be issued in a form for binding and preservation, and its price and form will remain the same. But we shall in the first week of January 1887 issue a large sheet of the size of the largest newspapers of America but on a superior paper, also filled with books of the newest and most entertaining, though in their several departments of Novels, Tales, Voyages, Travels &c. etc. in their character joined with reading such as usually should fill a weekly newspaper. By this method we hope to accomplish a great good; to enliven and enlighten the family circle, and to give to it an expense which shall be no consideration to any, the mass of reading that in book form would alarm the pockets of the prudent; and to do it in a manner that the most sceptical shall acknowledge the power of concentration can no further go. "No book which appears in Waldie's Quarto Library will be published in the Omnibus, which will be an entirely distinct periodical.

TERMS.

Waldie's Literary Omnibus will be issued every Friday morning, printed on paper of a quality superior to any other weekly sheet. It will contain—

1st Books, the newest and the best that can be procured, equal every week to a London duodecimo volume—embracing Novels, Travels, Memoirs &c. and only chargeable with newspaper cost.

2d Literary Reviews, Tales, Sketches, notices of books and information from the world of letters of every description.

3d The news of the week concentrated into a small compass but in a sufficient amount to embrace a knowledge of the principal events, political and miscellaneous of Europe and America.

The price will be two dollars to clubs of five subscribers where the paper is forwarded to one address. To clubs of two individuals, five dollars; single mail subscribers three dollars. The discount on unremitted money will be charged to the remitter; the low price and superior paper absolutely prohibit paying a discount.

"On no condition will a copy be sent until the payment is received in advance. As the arrangement for the prosecution of this great literary undertaking all made, and the proprietor has redeemed all his pledges to a generous public, for many years, no fear of the non-fulfilment of the contract can be felt. The Omnibus will be regularly issued, and will contain in a year reading matter equal to two volumes of Rees's Cyclopaedia, for the small sum mentioned above.

Address, post paid.

THE SKETCH BOOK OF CHARACTER;

Or Curious and Authentic Narratives and Anecdotes respecting Extraordinary Individuals.

In preparing the following work from ample materials, care has been exercised to avoid, in the main, the beaten track of former compilers, to present the reader rather what was inaccessible, than to copy well known biographies and events.

The principal object of the present collection, is to supply a pleasing variety of kind of incident, which, by exhibiting the marvellous in circumstance, and the extraordinary in character, displays the occasional waywardness of event, and its frequent curious operation upon the human mind. It would be easy to prove that, independently of mere entertainment, a knowledge of remarkable facts is necessary to correct the judgment, even upon every-day transactions; and that in the science of life, as well as in every other, it is necessary to become acquainted with the exception to the general rule.

To estimate properly what is, we must possess some knowledge of what may be, and the information is only to be acquired by an attention to the memorable and peculiar, which have been.

The publication was commenced in July. It will be issued in semi-monthly numbers, containing 80 pages each, and will be completed in five months, or sooner, at the option of the Publisher, and will contain, in all, over 400 pages. The numbers will be sent by mail to any part of the Union, carefully packed.

Terms.—One Dollar for the complete work, or six copies for Five Dollars.

Address, L. A. GODEY,

103 W. 4th street, Philadelphia.
